The well as white persons, having picnics, reader will remember that the first civil but they should not so conduct them as to make them nuisances. -A Nashville paper states that the other night a reverend gentleman of that city passed through a terrible ordeal. It happened about eleven o'clock. He had been reading, when all of a sudden he was seized with violent palpitation of the heart. He imagined he could hear it beating all around the room, in every niche and corner. It was like a loud knocking at the door, only more persistent. Now and then it cessed, but still he had not the power to rise. He sat there numbed, having a feeling of sacrament administered to him before he died, he jumped to his feet and was about to rush out of the room for that purpose. The very effort restored him to conscious relief, and he was whole once more and a happy man. That's it has been disastrous alike to Indenothing. Since the Chickasaw Guards' pendents and Radicals. BOB CHURCH.

An Answer to the Strictures on his Billiard Hall-Mary Burton-Etc.

"On the southeast corner of Gayoso and Second streets a two-story brick building can be seen, bearing the sign, 'Church's Billiard Hall.' The building is used for a bar, billiard hall, gambling hell, barber-shop, etc., and is kept by Bob Church, one of the swift witnesses of the congressional committee on the Memphis rlots of 1866, before which commtttee he swore that he had been eaten, shot at, and had his saloon robbed of two hundred and forty dollars in big bills and fifty dollars in small change, and testified that his entire loss was between seven and eight hundred dollars. He also testified that Dan Roach, a policeman, shot at him, and that the men who committed the robbery were all policemen, etc. "This mulatto keeps a lively trap at the location above mentioned. Many a poor negro has been run through and robbed therein, as it is frequented by a crowd of negro loafers, gamblers, 'cappers,' 'steerers,' the very sharpest and most expert gamblers and fancy negro hulks in the city, all of whom are Radicals of the deepest dye. Church's establishment has been raided upon a few times, but so watchful are the boys of the police that while the gambling devices and cards were found on the tabler, the players had left the ranch. A number of ugly scrapes which took place in this house called for police intervention, but some way or other the boys always managed to escape legal punishment. "During the trial of the Mary Burton rioters Church and his gamblers, barbers, etc., have been in attendance around the recorder's courtroom in the interest of the rioters, several of whom belonged to the same class of fancy negro gambling bucks. "The barber shop in Church's building is presided over by one Sam Biz-zell, a fancy gambler and turbulent negro of the upper-ten region, who some years since came from Ripley, Ohio." TO THE PUBLIC. The above appeared in yesterday's Evening Ledger, and certainly demands attention at my hands. • • I am too well known in this community to ask for an indorsement of my conduct during my long residence in Memphis of any particular class of individuals; and shall only, in as few words as possiole, answer the charges preferred. As to my testimony before the congressional investigation committee, was corroborated by Mr. Thomas Ford who is a large property owner in this city, and who still resides on Gayoso street, between Hernando and DeSoto streets. I keep a saloon and billiard hall on the corner of Gayoso and Second streets. Up stairs is a restaurant, which is also under my charge. While the accommodations are only intended for persons of my color, yet I have no hesitancy in saying they are as good as any similar place in the city, and as to good order being maintained, no complaint has ever been made, for the reason that no cause has ever been given. was in Philadelphia, leaving there the night she was arrested here in Mem- John Spellman (Ind. Dem.), 183; G. L.

> Logwood Triumphant Over his Independent Foes-His Nomination Indorsed by the People.

The election yesterday for sheriff, criminal court judge, prosecuting attorney of the Bartlett court. county trustee, magistrates and constables was unusually quiet. In fact, there was not more than an ordinary interest manifested, because of the absence of any systematic opposition on the part of the Radicals. The vote though not full was quite respectable. There was the usual bustle and activity, and prevalence of idlers, politicians and others will take an interest in elections, but other than a few personal misunderstandings there were no rows at any of the city poils. While the vote was comparatively small in the city, at the ninth ward a very large vote was polled, over seven hundred being cast by two o'clock. In the sixth, eighth and tenth wards there was a little excitement for a short while during the day. In the sixth ward Morris Henderson (colored) was arrested for illegal voting. At the ninth ward polls, Ex-Councilman W. B Glisson broke a cane over a negro's head and gave him a beating. The assailant was arrested, and a dirk was found on his We did not learn the extent of the negro's injuries. The election, in fact, was unusually quiet; and resulted, as anticipated, in the election of the Democratic ticket by a large majority. From the returns below, which em-brace only the city vote and one precinct-Big Springs-in the twelfth district, it will be seen that the total corporation vote was five thousand four hundred and eighty-four; the vote of Big Springs was forty-two, but is not district embraces Big Springs, and the first, second, third and eighth wards of the city; the fourteenth civil district embraces the fourth, the fifth, the sixth, theseventh and the tenth wards, and the fifteenth civil district the ninth ward. The election yesterday was for one school director in each district, except the eighteenth district, which, being a new district, elects three school directors. The fifth district elects three magistrates, the additional one being by virtue of the location of the courthouse within its limits, and for the same reason also two constables. The suffocation, and thought every moment would be his last. Wishing to have the each and one constable. Raleigh, Barteach and one constable. Raleigh, Bartlett and Memphis, being incorpo-rated towns, are entitled to one magistrate each, making in all forty-one magistrates to be elected. The vote so far has not been heavy, yet from the civil districts to-day will give further assurance of a clean sweep, for not a Radical has been elected. The vote is hereby given so far as returns have been made.

TRACKS IN THE SNOW

By means of unceasing inquiry and diligent effort, such as characterize Chief Athy when he undertakes the detection of criminals, he ascertained that Folk alias Russell, had gone to Arkansas and was living about with negroes in obscure places. More recently he ascertained that the man, under the name of J. R. Sloan, was making his home with a negro named Wyatt Huff, near Surround ed Hill or Fredonia landing, Prairie sounty, Arkansas. Folk had been traced from county to county, and place to place by Chief Athy, who was all the more anxious to have him arrested as depositions as to the fugitive being alive or dead, were to be taken in this city to-day, August 4th. He informed Sheriff H. O. Williams, of Prairie county, Arkansas, and the latter thereupon started in search of Folk, the telegram sent to him being as follows, and dated Memphis, July 27th: "Arrest a white man named Chas. A. Folk, alias R. Russell, alias J. R Sloan. You will find him at the cabin of Wyatt Huff's, colored, at Surrounded Hill or Fredonia Landing. Answer quick."
In the meantime Sheriff Williams telegraphed Chief Athy that he had Folk at Devalls Bluff, and asked him to meet nim there. Chief Athy then notified Mr. Carney of the arrest, and received the following answer: "I have telegraphed Williams to hold Folk, and M. Winters, 2552—whose majority over also notified Mr. Hill, our agent at S: Louis, to get a requisition. Perhaps it is William J. Wetter (Ind.
